

Benchmark Selldone vs. Shopify vs. WIX, 2021 - Ecommerce Platforms Players

Selldone – Community commerce platform

Selldone is an all-in-one, ready-to-use community commerce platform where business owners can create their own professional online shop and create PWA web apps without coding. Selldone, as an eCommerce platform, operates as an angel for the growth of businesses. Whether you have a small brick-and-mortar store or a large company, you need to showcase your product on the internet. Selldone used to build online stores with lower operating costs and greater flexibility. In addition, we provide an always-improving e-commerce management toolchain that gains new features every week, like integrating store administration and visual programming interface to create custom automation processes or AI integration.

All Selldone subscriptions provide enterprise-grade e-commerce features, such as the ability to create limitless products, catalogs, take credit card payments, sell gift cards, give discount codes, coupons, offers, and access a variety of third-party apps.

Compared with other platforms, no code, template, and plugin advantages empower merchants to go online hassle-free and fast. No code makes it accessible and scalable, No template brings simplicity, and No plugin saves time. In terms of cost for the users, We provide an all-time-free plan. Zero cost for starting from scratch enables SMB's and entrepreneurs, especially those who live in developing countries, to unlock their ideas. There is no need to spend a penny or hire a developer to build their online shop. It is as easy and fast as creating an account and posting an image on Instagram. Selldone goal is to bring fairness and equality into eCommerce by making a lovely platform for all people no matter who they are and where they live.

Who are Selldone customers?

They are entrepreneurs that want to start their own business or SMBs who want to turn their traditional business into e-commerce. They are looking for a quick way to sell their products online, but at the same time, they want to have their own brand and promote the site on their own domain. They can not afford to pay hundreds or thousands of dollars to set up an online store. Most interact with their customers and sales on social networks such as Instagram, Facebook, or Telegram. Because they have worked with free apps that they did not pay directly to them (such as Instagram), it is difficult or strange to pay for an online service.

Shopify - Commerce platform

Tobias Lütke, a German-born entrepreneur, established Shopify in Canada in 2006 after realizing that an e-commerce system he developed to sell snowboards could be used by — and sold to — other businesses. Shopify is a web program that lets you build your online store. It offers various 'themes' that may be modified to fit your specific branding needs and sell physical and digital items. One of Shopify's main goals is to allow newcomers to create their online stores. The platform gives access to CSS, HTML, and Liquid via Shopify's coding language.

All Shopify subscriptions provide fundamental e-commerce features, such as the ability to create limitless product catalogs, take credit card payments, sell gift cards, give discount coupons on purchases, and access a variety of third-party apps.

Shopify mission

make commerce better for everyone, so businesses can focus on what they do best: building and selling their products.

Selldone key features

SEO and Marketing to boost sales.

Easy to set up without the need for the host.

Exceptional security.

Easy to manage.

Store management Features.

The point of sale (POS) support.

Multi-channel sales support.

Wix - Website builder

Wix provides a drag-and-drop site builder for constructing small websites. Wix offers its web hosting as well as domain registrations. There are hundreds of free templates available that can be changed as desired via Wix page builder or editor with extra subscriptions. The App Market makes it able to add extra features such as photo galleries, booking forms, members sections, and online storefronts via other platforms. However, there are a some limitations that make Wix less than ideal for larger websites.

Wix mission

provide tools to allow anyone in the world to build their online presence and grow their business.
